"The response of this socially conservative papal schism to the coronavirus and President Trump."

Archbishop Carlo Maria Viganò warns the president that the current crises over the Coronavirus pandemic and the George Floyd riots are part of the eternal spiritual struggle between the forces of good and evil. He encourages the President to continue the fight on behalf of the "children of light".

Sunday of the Holy Trinity

Mr President,

In recent months we have witnessed the formation of two opposite sides that I would call biblical: the children of light and the children of darkness. The children of light constitute the most visible part of humanity, while the children of darkness represent an absolute minority. However, the former are subject to a kind of discrimination that places them in a situation of moral inferiority to their opponents, who often hold strategic positions in government, politics, economics and the media. In a seemingly inexplicable way, the good are held hostage by the bad and those who help them, whether out of self-interest or fear.

These two sides, which are biblical in nature, follow the clear separation between the descent of Woman and the descent of Snake. On the one hand are those who, although they have a thousand faults and weaknesses, are motivated by the desire to do good, to be honest, to raise a family, to work, to give prosperity to their homeland, to help the needy and, in obedience to God's Law, to deserve the Kingdom of Heaven. On the other hand, there are those who serve themselves, who have no moral principles, who want to demolish the family and the nation, to exploit the workers to become unduly rich, to foment internal divisions and wars, and to accumulate power and money: for them the fallacious illusion of temporal well-being will one day - if they do not repent - give in to the terrible fate that awaits them, far from God, in eternal damnation.

In society, Mr President, these two opposing realities coexist as eternal enemies, just as God and Satan are eternal enemies. And it seems that the children of darkness - whom we can easily identify with the deep state to which you wisely oppose and who, in these days, are waging fierce war against you - have decided to show their cards, so to speak, by now revealing their plans. They seem so certain that they have everything under control that they have put aside that circumspection which until now had at least partly hidden their true intentions. The investigations already under way will reveal the real responsibility of those who managed the Covid emergency not only in the area of health, but also in politics, the economy and the media. It is likely that in this colossal social engineering operation there will be people who have decided the fate of humanity, arrogating the right to act against the will of the citizens and their representatives in the governments of nations.

We will also find that the riots of these days have been caused by those who, seeing that the virus is inevitably disappearing and that the social alarm of the pandemic is diminishing, have necessarily had to provoke civil unrest, because they would be followed by repression which, although legitimate, could be condemned as an unjustified aggression against the population. The same is happening in Europe too, in perfect synchrony. It is very clear that the use of street protests is fundamental to the objectives of those who would like to see someone elected in the forthcoming presidential elections who embodies the objectives of the deep state and expresses those objectives faithfully and with conviction. It will not be surprising if, in a few months' time, we learn once again that behind these acts of vandalism and violence are hidden those who hope to profit from the dissolution of social order in order to build a world without freedom: Solve et Coagula, as the Masonic adage teaches us.

Although it may seem disconcerting, the opposing alignments I have described are also found in religious circles. There are pastors faithful who care for Christ's flock, but there are also mercenary infidels who seek to scatter the flock and deliver the sheep to be devoured by hungry wolves. It is not surprising that these mercenaries are allies of the children of darkness and hate the children of light: just as there is a deep state, there is also a deep church that betrays its duties and abandons its own commitments before God. Thus, the Invisible Enemy, against whom good rulers fight in public affairs, is also fought by good pastors in the ecclesiastical sphere. It is a spiritual battle, of which I spoke in my recent Appeal, published on 8 May.

For the first time, the United States has a President who courageously defends the right to life, who is not ashamed to denounce the persecution of Christians throughout the world, who speaks of Jesus Christ and the right of citizens to freedom of worship. Your participation in the March for Life, and more recently your proclamation of April as National Month for the Prevention of Child Abuse, are actions that confirm which side you want to fight on. And I dare believe that we are both on the same side in this battle, albeit with different weapons.

For this reason, I believe that the attack to which he was subjected after his visit to the National Sanctuary of Saint John Paul II is part of the orchestrated media narrative that seeks not to combat racism and bring social order, but to aggravate the provisions; not to bring justice, but to legitimise violence and crime; not to serve the truth, but to favour a political faction. And it is disconcerting that there are bishops - like those I denounced recently - who, with their words, prove that they are aligned with the opposite side. They are subservient to the deep state, to globalism, to aligned thinking, to the New World Order that they invoke more and more often in the name of a universal brotherhood that has nothing Christian about it, but which evokes the Masonic ideals of those who want to dominate the world, expelling God from courts, schools, families, and perhaps even churches.

The American people are mature and have now understood how much the mainstream media do not want to spread the truth, but seek to silence and distort it by spreading the lie that is useful for the purposes of their masters. However, it is important that the good - who are the majority - wake up from their slowness and do not accept being deceived by a minority of dishonest people for purposes of little credit. It is necessary that the good, the children of light, come together and make their voices heard. What more effective way of doing this, Mr

President, than by asking you to protect yourself, the United States and all humanity from this enormous attack by the Enemy? Before the power of prayer, the deceptions of the children of darkness will crumble, their plot will be revealed, their betrayal will be demonstrated, their terrifying power will end in nothing, brought to light and exposed for what it is: a hellish deception.

Mr President, my prayer is constantly addressed to the beloved American nation, where I had the privilege and honor to be sent by Pope Benedict XVI as Apostolic Nuncio. In this dramatic and decisive hour for all humanity, I pray for you and also for all those who are at your side in the government of the United States. I hope that the American people will be united with you and me in prayer to Almighty God.

United against the Invisible Enemy of all mankind, I bless you and the First Lady, the beloved American nation, and all men and women of good will.
