

Copeland: Hatred of Trump Caused
the Coronavirus

Faith healer, prosperity gospel preacher and overall con artist Kenneth Copeland says that the coronavirus problem will go away quickly because Christian prayers have overwhelmed it and that it was caused by people hating Trump.

“This disease called COVID-19 will be over much sooner than you think,” God reportedly told Copeland. “Christian people all over this country praying have overwhelmed it. Give Me all the glory, saith the spirit of grace. And many, many people will come to know Me through it. I am still Lord over this nation and I am on the throne and faith in Me changes things!”

“There’s been some really nasty things that have happened this year—last year and this year—that I’m quite certain—well, I know—opened the door to a lot of this,” Copeland continued. “Displays of hate and hatred by politicians toward the president. And hate on both sides. The Democrats hate him, and we have some people that hate them because they hate him.”

“This fussing and this fighting going on in this government just opened the doors wide to this country just to bring this trash in here and just slam us with it,” he added. “When we get to hating people in this nation openly and publicly in political office and it breaks down the divine protection over this nation, we get hit.”

Who could possibly argue with that causal chain? People hate Trump, so God kills a bunch of elderly people, including those who support Trump. Brilliant!
